

Jewelry Trends Fall/Winter 2022-2023

#1. Statement Oversized Earrings

The bigger, the better is certainly a true sentiment for this accessory trend! Dripping ornamental earrings that grazed shoulders were obsessively popular, and while we will all have hopefully quit Zoom by fall and winter, long, chunky earrings will still draw attention if you remain doing anything virtual.

#2. Bangles/Cuff Bracelets

This section isn't about walking like an Egyptian but rather the cuff style of bracelet that is single-handedly bringing the fashion world to its knees.

#3. Over the Ear

Ear cuffs jumped up a level according to the fall 2022 jewelry trends, turning into full ear-covering jewelry.

#4. Chunky Rings

Perfect for nightlife or the office, chunky rings give a bit of pizzazz to any otherwise-boring outfit. So, while I wouldn't cast aside all of your dainty rings, veering towards chunkier and more elaborate options is an excellent choice.

#5. Hoopla

Hoops have yet to and most likely never will go out of style. Simplistic and elegant, this style of earring has recurred throughout many runways.

#6. Choke Me

With the rise of the 2014 Tumblr aesthetic comes the reappearance of chokers.

#7. Y2K

Considering that low-slung jeans, pink hues, and other Y2K looks are still on the rise, it can't come as much of a shock that lucite bangles, bulky rings, and other 2000s jewelry trends are popping up along the runways.

#8. Pearls

Each season they capture our attention on the catwalk, accessorizing elegant looks with a sophisticated aura or adding funky details when used in original ways.

#9.Statement Florals

Get ready to see over-the-top florals paired with classic jewelry pieces—including chokers, bracelets, rings and so much more.

#10. Fringe

Swinging details are reigning supreme with jewelry, bags, and even a few belts showing off strands of various stones and threads. A tasteful and eclectic look, this is something to get excited about come fall.

Accessories Trends Fall/Winter 2022-2023

#1. Side up

Whether you want to clip back a few strands of hair from your face or add extra delicate details to your outfit with these sleek accessories, using hair barrettes is an accessory trend for winter that isn't going anywhere.

#2. Hairband

Headbands proved to be the crowning glory of the fall/winter 2022-2023 hair accessory trends.

#3. Curvy Handbag

Noughties nostalgia has brought the hobo bag back, and Fendi, Off-White, and Marine Serre have some great ideas for how to modernize it.

#4. Caps

From Gucci to Coach to Burberry, the all-American baseball cap was the dominant headgear on the catwalks.

#5. Balaklava

From Max Mara to Coperni, the balaklava hat or snood became the ultimate symbol of warmth. Despite getting some grief over being the cross between a hat and a scarf, this style of winter cap has been holding steady as a trend for a few years now.

#6. Bedazzle Your Socks

Max Mara, Kiko Kostadinov, and Chopova Lowena built gemstones and ribbon details right into knee-highs.

#6. Multiply Your Belt

One leather belt simply will not be enough. Miu Miu doubled down, literally, on waist-wear with layered belts while Diesel turned belts into skirts themselves. The strappier the better.

#7. Trade Neutrals for Shine

From Prada's metallic pumps to Tory Burch's shimmering green shoulder bag, glitz was everywhere this season.

#8. Lean Into Fluff

Call it the Emma Brewin effect. The British milliner's popular furry hats—beloved by Rihanna—were a pandemic sensation. Now brands the world over are getting in on the fluffy action with shoes, bags, and hats in soft textures and oversized volumes.
